The price is the price. If you need one with a working disk and the disks then you will click buy it now.

Ok lets go... The Einstein needs' a new home with someone that will appreciate it rather than it just stuck in a corner.

Testing :

Powered up and tuned into rf channel 36.

Booted Master Disk with ctrl break.

Loaded BBC basic

Played some of the super hi def 4k wonder games (NOT that's a joke. I played some OK games and the games loaded.)

Downside.

Keyboard missing the V key and would probably do with a good clean and sort out.

If this was one of my Amstrads it would be stripped down to the base and cleaned

Now the interesting bit.

I am sorry to say to people outside the UK its going global shipping...

Reasons why: To may requests to defraud the customs process coming in.

Asking for a £20 value on a customs form means £20 value insurance.

Also when you get caught out you then send messages to be saying its my fault you have to pay your taxes

UK Courier shipping is to NON Remote areas.

If you live in a remote area (you will know this so please dont act dumb) you will be charged a surcharge for shipping.

How can someone who lives in the channel islands not know that the shipping is not standard UK on large parcels?

Its mega old... so its being sold as spares or repair.

If you are a collector or trader this will not bother you. You will no doubt strip it clean it and if required recap or heatsink it.

So I repeat its being sold as spares or repair

So I repeat its being sold as spares or repair..

Now the old : Lets blame the seller for bad packaging... Its been damaged in transit.
Another one bites the dust...

Best way to get it to you 100% safe = come and collect it...

next best : PAY the MONEY for decent packaging and shipping..

If you want it double boxed and shipped by a next day courier it costs money...

Package dimensions on the beauty are : 70 x 60 x 30 and 5-10KG Bracket... You do the math.

If you want to pay £7.90 and have a single wall box and it shipped on a 3 day smasher special.... that is your choice and why you thi have no idea.

This generation of plastic will crack and break if you sneeze to loud.

If you are part of the retro community and have been lucky enough to be included in the initial launch and air drop of retrocoin then I payment. Message me after auction and choose collection as the payment option.
The sale will go through ebay for buyer and seller protection .
