Item description from the seller

Tatung Einstein Home Computer.

My mother has had these in the loft since as far back as I remember and it is time for a clear out. I have other, related itsems, available and can give a bulk discour

All electronics were working when they went into the loft but that was decades ago and they haven't been touched since. They've been stored in a dry, cool, enviro purchasing in bulk can come along and test them if they wish.

This comes in the original box, which is a little dusty with signs of wear. There are a whole bunch of tatung instruction manuals but I don't know which are which I've set postage a bit high to both encourage people to pick up but also to cover the cost of extra packaging that I may need to buy.

On 26-Feb-23 at 18:22:44 GMT, seller added the following information:

I've uploaded some more photos. There are no scuffs or marks on the computer itself and it looks unused.

I actually have three more of these which I'll offer to the highest bidder, then the 2nd highest, and so on. The other three are used but in good condition.
