Dear Einstein Owner,

Congratulations on purchasing what we believe to be the most reliable and versatile computer, at its' price, on the market today. You have the beginnings of what is a very powerful system that is equally at home in a business or domestic environment.

To give you an example, by adding our 80 column card you have the ability to run such powerful software as Wordstar Professional, Infostar, Cracker, DBase II and accounting programs. Some of the peripherals that are available from us or dealers are:-

TM01A	14" Colour Monitor	RRP.	179.00
TM80	12" Green Screen Monitor	RRP.	99.00
TK02	80 Column Card	RRP.	59.00
MM1225A	12" Amber Screen Monitor	RRP.	99.00
TK01	Internal Disk Drive	RRP.	99.00
TD301	3" External Disk Drive	RRP.	99.00
22-8112-0	Einstein Parallel Printer Cable	RRP.	14.50
17-0167-3	256k Silicon Disk Drive	RRP.	89.95
17-0129-0	Sure Shot Joystick	RRP.	19.95
19-8170-6	2K Buffer for TP100	RRP.	15.00
17-0134-7	Einstein/Monitor Dust Cover	RRP.	10.45
17-0160-6	Spectrum Emulator	RRP.	49.95
TP100	100 CPS Dot Matrix Printer	RRP.	169.00
DSK01	Blank 3" Disk	RRP.	4.95

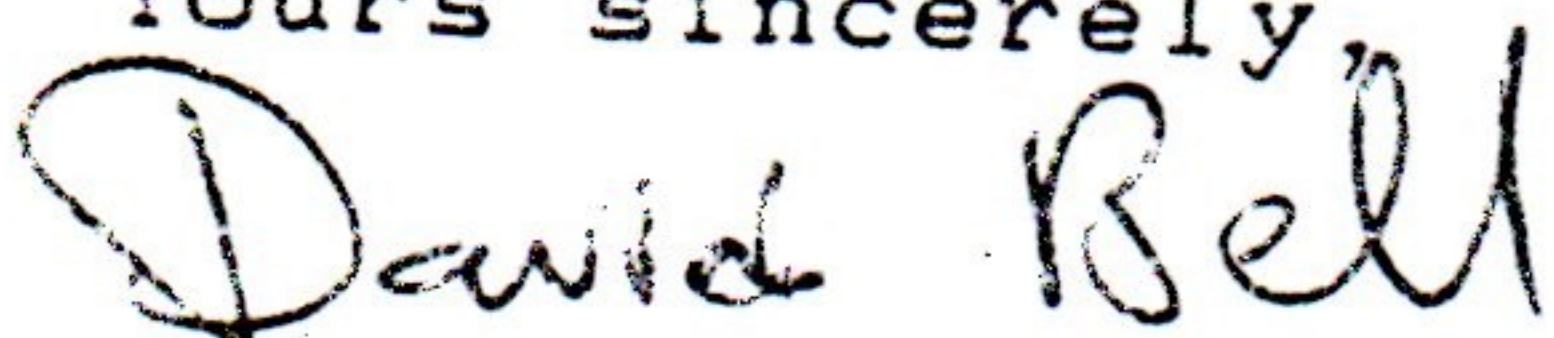

Many software houses are supporting the Einstein with game software. Such well known companies as Software Projects, Konami, Anirog, Mastertronic, Bubble Bus, Virgin, Lothlorian and Infocom, all support the Einstein with titles.

Most titles can be ordered from your local dealer or Tatung. The Mail Order Department at Tatung publish their own user magazine called "Tatung Einstein User", and there are currently 8 issues and a sample is enclosed. We recommend that you subscribe to this magazine so that you may be made aware of all the latest developments.

The UK subscription rate is £6.00 per 4 issues and cheques should be made payable to Einstein User at the above address and should you require any of the back issues those are also available at £1.50 each issue.

Finally, with such a wealth of software and accessories available, we do realise that you will need advice. Please feel free to telephone our Technical Support Department where David Bell, Julian Willis or Judith Buttifant will be only too pleased to advise you.

Yours sincerely,

Dear Einstein Owner,

Welcome to the September news letter, its contents are very exciting.

Tatung's computer development team have been very busy and we are pleased to announce the launch of the new Einstein 256. The Einstein 256 will sell for £399 inc. VAT. Further evidence of Tatung becoming one of the worlds leading computer manufactures is displayed by the information on our new range of IBM compatible computers, terminals and monitors, which is to be found in the enclosed Einstein User Magazine and will be on display at the PCW show at Olympia in London (3rd to 7th September).

The September issue of the Einstein User Magazine is the first one produced by our new editors and we believe you will find it better than ever before !. If you have any opinions on the User Magazine please let us know, Do you want more software reviews or competitions etc ? For those people who have not subscribed to the magazine, and now wish to do so, please send a cheque payable to Tatung U.K. for the sum of £5.00, at the above address, marking the envelope 'Einstein User Magazine' and do not forget your address !.

All existing special offers with our Software Mail Order department will cease at the end of September except for the following:

TP100 Printer & Cable £169.00

Please do not forget, for every Einstein that is bought on your recommendation you will receive £50.00 in software vouchers.

Yours faithfully,

March, 1986

Dear Einstein Owner,

Please find enclosed the Einstein User Magazine (issue number 5), this excellent quarterly publications will in future cost £5.00 per year to all registered Einstein owners.

As you will see from the price list there are twelve additions, which include five new exciting games, plus famous titles like DBASE II and Multiplan.

On a more cautionary note it appears that a number of people have corrupted their Konami 4 Game Pack disc, by trying to make a backup copy. This game has a copy protection system which does not permit you to do this, please contact either Konami or Tatung if you have any questions. In addition, please note the temporary suspension of Super Tutor sales.

For people who wish to start a local Einstein User club or simply want details of the National Einstein User Group, please contact Mr. Keith Stokes at Hillcroft, Codmore Hill, Pulborough, West Sussex, RH20 1BQ, telephone 07982-2399. In addition, please do not forget that the National User Group produce a monthly, indepth newsletter; containing competitions, program listings and other articles of general interest.

Finally until further notice, the following offers are available from our Software Mailorder Department. Please note, to enable us to despatch your orders as quickly as possible, we would prefer orders to be sent in on the enclosed order form, though we will still accept orders by phone if it is absolutely necessary.

TP100 Dot Matrix Printer with Cable £199.99

TD301 External Disc Drive £149.00

CP/M 80 & Xitan 80 Column Basic £99.50

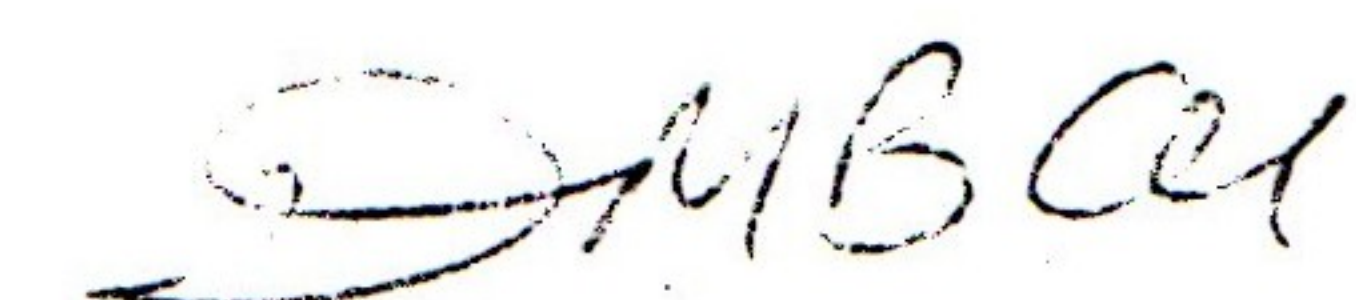

TD301 External Disc Drive £149.00

TK01 Internal Disc Drive £149.00

Back issues of Einstein User £1.00 (includes P & P)

In addition for every £50.00 you spend on software from our Mailorder Department you will get a £5.00 software voucher, redeemable against any future software orders.

Yours sincerely,

DATE AS POSTMARK

Dear Einstein Owner,

Many exciting things have happened since our last mailshot, the range of software and hardware peripherals has continued to increase, whilst the most interesting news is the launch of the SPECULATOR. This small hardware addition will enable you to load from cassette certain specified Spectrum games and play them on your Einstein. Initially up to twenty games may be purchased in Spectrum format and these are listed on the disc that comes with the SPECULATOR, these include favourites such as The Hobbit, Twin Kingdom Valley and Hunchback, with a lot more planned. The SPECULATOR will retail at a remarkably low price of £45.00 inc. VAT and will be available from the end of February, from either your local dealer, Screens Microcomputer Distribution or our Software Mail Order Department.

The first issue of The Brain magazine, written with the more serious user in mind, has now been published and has received some very good reviews (further details tel: 0282 698848). Meanwhile, you should be receiving the latest Einstein User magazine by the end of the month.

Followers of the intriguing and increasingly popular range of software by Infocom will be pleased to note the newly reduced prices, and the addition of the internationally famous Hitchhikers Guide to the Galaxy - see our catalogue for the complete range.

One of the most common queries received by our Software Mail Order Department is about the availability of additional CP/M software, for example DBASE II, Cobol, Multiplan and the Sage Accounting System. All these are available in Einstein format from your dealer or phone us for a quotation.

Screen Plus is an exciting screen, graphic and sprite designer. This enables you, with the use of a joystick, to design pictures on your screen, then dump them to your TP100 (or compatible) printer or disc. Instructions are included to enable your designs to be used in machine code or BASIC programs. This vital tool for any serious programmer or artist, retails at only £14.95 inc. VAT and is available from your local dealer or our Software Mail Order Department.

13th November, 1985

Dear Einstein User,

The Computer Division of Tatung (UK) Limited would like to thank you, our valued customer, for supporting the Einstein micro computer over the last year. As a token of our thanks, we are launching some new software for the Einstein and from now until the end of 1985, some of these titles will be available by mail order at a reduced price. If you open the Christmas card that we have included, you will find these special offer prices quoted.

May I draw your special attention to two of our own products. The first is our DAN DIAMOND adventure trilogy. This is a text adventure where you take the part of Dan Diamond, private investigator.

In part 1 'Franklin's Tomb' you must solve the riddle of the crypt.

In part 2 'Lost in Space' you must escape from a derelict space ship.

In part 3 'Fishy Business' you are stranded on a desert island on a watery world.

The second program we have produced in response to great demand from our customers. The package comprises :- CP/M80 v 2.2 with an 80 column business basic on the same disk. The package comes complete with comprehensive manuals.

The support that third parties are providing for the Einstein is now very extensive with a number of user groups being formed around the country. One of these groups is acting as a national group and this can be contacted at :-

The Secretary,
UK Einstein User Group,
6, Spearman Street,
Woolwich,
London SE18 4DG.

A slightly different organisation, but still providing a high level of support, is Syntaxsoft. They will be producing a bi-monthly magazine called 'The Brain'. The first issue will be January/February and will cover such subjects as the Texas VDP, graphics for beginners, machine code and 3D rotation, etc. Subscription to the magazine will cost £16.00 per year but will also give discounts on software, phone in technical help and access to the latest information.

This company can be contacted at :-

Unit 101, Glenfield Park,
Nelson, BB9 8AR.

Dear Einstein Owner,

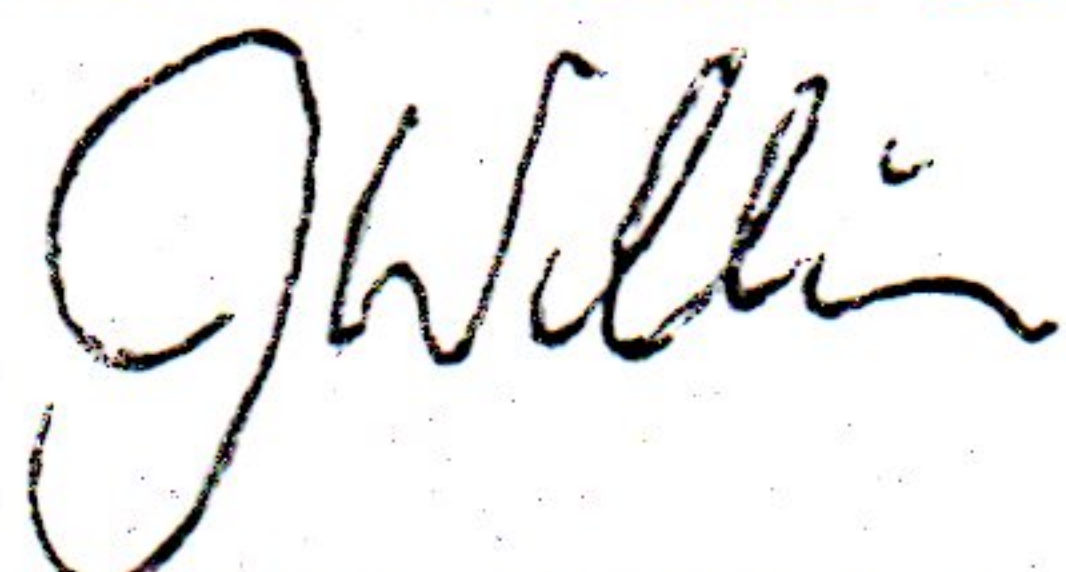

Welcome to the latest quarterly mailshot and for all those people who have subscribed to the Einstein User Magazine, the latest edition.

You will see from the enclosed product news sheet that the range of software continues to increase for the Einstein, probably the most welcome addition being the most demanded game, Elite .

We hope you agree with us when we say that the technical support offered by ourselves is very good. However, recently, due to the ever increasing numbers of Einstein owners, we are struggling to reply to all enquiries that come to us. Therefore can I take this opportunity to remind you of some products and associations that may greatly assist you with any problems you may experience. Einstein User, UKEUG, Einstein Review and the Brain are all magazines dedicated to the Einstein, and cover topics like software reviews, problem pages and program listings. The Einstein Primer is a book which offers simple explanations and exercises for the first time user, whilst Relatively Basic" more fully explains the various XBAS commands plus detailed information on POKES and PEEKS . Basic Tutorial and the Programmers Kit are both disc based, the former being, as the title suggests, a tutorial for the beginner, the latter offers an expansion to XBAS, plus two simple sprite generators, a program to define function keys and the ability to list variables. Finally, there will be available shortly, cassette based exercises covering things like backing up discs etc, details from Mr Alan Davey on 04606-4511.

Special offers available from our mailorder department are so extensive this month that they are listed on an enclosed separate sheet. Please note these offers supersede any previous offers made and any outstanding mailorder vouchers must be redeemed by the end of March 1987. Finally, please also note that due to increased postal charges, all orders are to include 55p postage and packing, irrespective of size of order.

Yours sincerely,

Julian Willis,
Einstein Department.

Dear Einstein Owner,

Welcome to the latest quarterly mailshot, and for those who have subscribed to the Einstein User Magazine the latest edition. The news this month is as ever varied and exciting.

There are now three more new User Clubs which have been established, please address all enquiries to:-

North East Club, 43, Mitford Road, Morpeth, Northumberland.

South East Club, 9, Minster Road, Acol, Birchington, Kent.

South West Club, 46, Claredon Road, Ipplepen, Newton Abbot.

In the field of software the range available is increasing in quantity and nature.

Surrey Software have released a variety of titles for the Einstein including an eighty column wordprocessor for £95.00, a complete accounts suite, plus many other exciting business and utility programs. Further details available from Surrey Software, Brookside, Sandhurst, Camberley, GU17 8AP (Tel: 0344 761710).

Peach Computers have written a large number of programs specifically for particular types of businesses and all are priced at £25.00. Some of the titles already released are for garage owners, landlords, Hotel managers, club organisers, shop owners, newsagents etc. For full details of all their titles please contact Peach Computers at 192, Greenock Road, Largs, KA30 8SD. (Tel: 0475 673766).

Merlin Software have released two titles, with another arriving shortly. Starquake (£14.95) has probably the best sound and graphics in a game to appear to date, the adventure is based around 500 different screens. Interstellar Explorer/Miner Dick (£13.95) is, as the title suggests, a double title, both exciting and demanding games based in space. Wordmaster (price to be announced) is a vital tool to anybody who does crosswords or anagrams.

Just tell the computer which letters of the word you know, and it will give all the possibilities from a dictionary of 35,000 words, which can be increased by the user if so desired. All these games will be available from your local dealer or our mailorder department. Finally, Merlin Software have now released two packages, one designed for owners of a Sub Post Office and the other a TV Rental Package (further details available on Tel: 09274-20664).

The special offers this month are so extensive that they are listed overleaf and contain some 'one off' offers not to be missed. All previous offers are no longer valid.

Yours faithfully,

Julian Willis

Dear Einstein Owner,

Welcome to the latest quarterly mailshot, also for all those people who have subscribed to the Einstein User Magazine, the latest edition (volume 3 no:3) is enclosed. The annual subscription for this excellent magazine is only £6.00 and all back issues are available at a cost of £1.50 each. When ordering back issues please state clearly which edition is required.

Following last years extremely successful Einstein Users Show another meeting is being held on November 14th at the National Motorcycle Museum, Birmingham. This is to be found opposite the National Exhibition Centre, just off Jn. 4 of the M6, or by train to Birmingham International Station. This show is being organised by the U.K Einstein User Group, and full details can be obtained on 0473-49507 (see also page 703 on CEEFAX). This show will have something for everybody and is not to be missed !

I have recently received notification of the creation of three more User Groups and details can be obtained from them at the following addresses :-

Mansfield User Group
44 Alexandra Str.
Warsop,
Mansfield,
Notts NG20 0BB

Isle of Wight Users Club
25 Quarry Road,
Ryde,
Isle of Wight PO33 2TZ

Dorset/Hampshire User Group
30 Cattistock Road,
Strouden Park,
Bournemouth,
Hampshire.

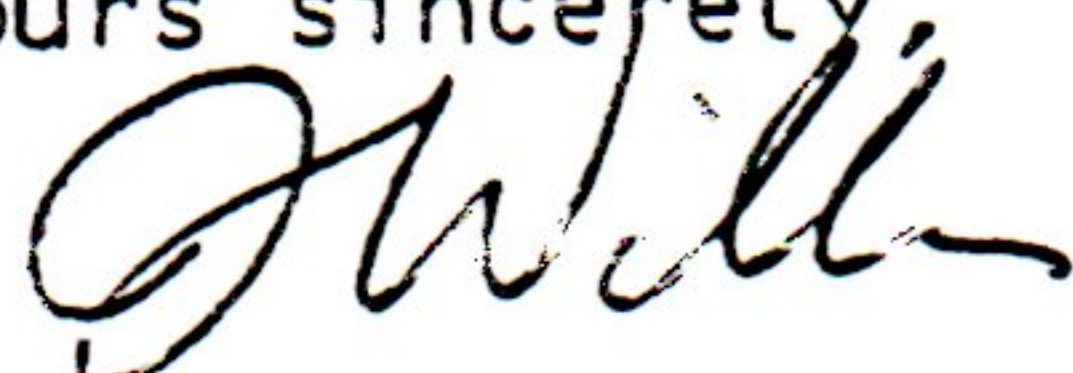

For those people who feel they require some training in the operation of the Einstein, they can now acquire this service from Computer Training Services of Birmingham (tel. 021-233-3465) or B & H of Halifax (tel. 0422-54581).

New software titles available for the Einstein are Tas-Sign and Graph Draw. Tas-Sign (£29.95) from Tasman Software (Tel. 0532-438301) allows you to produce and print your own signs, posters etc. Graph Draw (£35.00) available directly from B & H of Halifax (tel. 0422-52905) is a graphics package which allows you to produce text and/or diagrams on the screen and then be able to dump them to a printer.

Other items of interest from B & H is the development of a colour 80 column card, with a prospective launch date of early November, a second disk for owners of the Spectrum Emulator and future software titles Tobruk and Theatre of Europe.

Finally the special offers available from our mailorder department are listed on the reverse side of this letter sheet.

Yours sincerely,

Julian Willis - Einstein Department

December, 1987

Dear Einstein Owner,

Welcome to the latest quarterly mailshot. For those people who subscribe to the Einstein User Magazine, volume 3 No: 4 will hopefully be posted in late January.

The first big computer show of next year will be the "Which Computer Show" at The National Exhibition Centre, Jan 19th-22nd, where Tatung will be exhibiting its latest range of computers, monitors and terminals.

The Einstein Show at the Motor Cycle Museum was extremely popular, with last year's attendance surpassed. Such was the success of the show, that UKEUG have decided to hold another show on the 3rd April at the same location. From the UKEUG comes the Einstein Compendium, this book plus accompanying disc contains numerous interesting programs and helpful tips which members of UKEUG have suggested, at £10.50 incl. postage and packing, it is a most useful acquisition. Likewise File Handling from BASIC, at £3.50 seems an unbelievable bargain for the advice it offers. Details of these books, the show and how to join the UKEUG group are available from Mr. Graham Bettany, UKEUG, 80 Dales Rd, Ipswich, Suffolk IP1 4JR Tel 0473-49507.

I have recently received information that the South East Users Group has reformed and now holds weekly meetings. Details available from Mr. Ken Crouch, 2 Chilham Rd, Cheriton, Folkstone, Kent. Tel.no. 0303-78526. Also in Kent, Mr. Peter Pennington has written a disc based program for all those who wish to become Radio-Hams, his address is 146 Elms Vale Rd, Dover. CT17 9PN tel.no.0304-21490.

Merlin Software have released the long awaited title, Dragon's Lair. This retails at £14.95 and is one of the most requested titles so far. A note of caution, this game is very demanding and only really suitable for serious game players. Another title now available is an educational one called Super Tutor. This covers French, German, History, Music, Geography, and Religious Education! For owners of the Spectrum Emulator, another disc has been released, which allows the transfer of any Spectrum software onto the Einstein, further details available from Merlin Software on 0422-54581.

Tatung now have Screen's excellent Music Maker programme in stock. This program allows you to compose, edit, print and play music! Normal retail price is £22.95. However as an introductory offer it is available for £19.99.

Screens have also released CAD-MASTER for the Einstein 256, this being a fully functional computer aided design system, further details from Screens on 09274-20664.

The special offers from our Mailorder department are so extensive that they are listed overleaf. Please use the enclosed order form and do not forget to add 55p for post and packing.

Finally, on behalf of Tatung U.K. Ltd, can I wish you a happy Christmas and a prosperous New Year.

Yours sincerely,

JULIAN WILLIS - Einstein Department

Special Offers from the Tatung Mailorder Department

Einstein 256

This is still available exclusively to Einstein owners at £299.00 plus the free inclusion of a £100.00 software voucher! Do not forget the Einstein 256 has its own colour monitor and eighty column card included.

Infostar

Written by Micro-Pro the authors of Wordstar Professional, this superbly powerful 80 column database program normally retails for £79.90. However, it is now on special offer at £49.90. Designed with the non-programmer in mind, Infostar will solve your data storage and retrieval problems quickly and easily.

Home Budget

If your personal finances are always in disarray, this program will allow you to calculate your budget for the coming year, and so avoid those costly overdrafts. Costing only £4.99, (normally £12.95) this must represent a bargain which will soon be sold out.

Father Christmas has apparently come early with the following packages.

If you buy Norseman/Backgammon (£9.98) you will receive free a copy of Buzz Off/Sharkhunter. These double titles by Electric Software will appeal to any family, combining platform, arcade and board games in one package.

If you buy Xanagrams/Quadrax (£12.95) you will receive free a copy of Tycoon/Pelmanism. This package probably requires the most mental effort, combining the challenge of a word quiz right through to that of experiencing the thrills of the stock market.

Quest/Castle Quest is given away free for all those who buy Pakman/Millipede (£9.98). Both Quest games are exciting adventures, whilst Pakman and Millipede are based on the traditional theme.

Cursed Chambers/Zrim (£9.98) purchasers will receive free Island of Artuan, an excellent text based adventure with 130 locations to explore.

Finally for all you avid Infocom followers, if you purchase Zork II you will receive Zork III with our compliments.

Tatung withhold the right to withdraw any of the above offers, which are only valid whilst stocks last.
